Putter | PGA TOUR Golf Shootout Wiki | Fandom

Putters are a type of club most often used for shooting the ball short distances along the surface of the green, ultimately aiming to land the ball in the hole. Putters are critical to a bag's overall performance since they are an accurate and reliable way to sink a ball close to the hole, more than any other club type. They are considered such an essential part of the game that at least one putter is required to be in any ...
